

The National Women's Justice Coalition launches the UK's first directory of services for women in contact with the Criminal Justice System

Visit www.WomensServicesMap.com

The National Women's Justice Coalition (NWJC) is proud to announce the launch of www.WomensServicesMap.com, the UK's first directory of women's centres and specialist services for women and girls in contact with the criminal justice system.

Aimed at both professionals supporting CJS involved women, and women wishing to access services directly themselves, this new interactive and intuitive website currently maps over 60 UK based women's centres and almost 200 specialist services for women and girls with criminal justice involvement.

Visitors to the website can search for women's centres and services in multiple ways, using an interactive map, targeted postcode search or by filtering services by organisation or service specialism.

The website also includes comprehensive contact details for all listed organisations as well as guidance and instructions for making direct referrals and self-referrals to services.

Prison based services are also catalogued for each of the UK's twelve women's prisons and can be filtered by prison.

The NWJC is committed to supporting the development of this website on an ongoing basis. Organisations currently delivering services and support for women and girls in contact with the criminal justice system and that are interested in being listed in the directory are invited to contact us for more information. Directory listings are completely free of charge, but all featured organisations will be obliged to commit to regularly reviewing and updating their content.

This project has been generously supported and funded by the Jabbs Foundation.

For queries, questions or for further information about the NWJC, please email info@weareNWJC.org.uk.